

The day the apple was eaten

One cozy winter day, I was in my room relaxing when I heard my mum yell out Emily come here! I was confused because she's usually calm but I went to go check what had happened, "The Big Apple has been eaten" mum said, I couldn't believe it the apple seems WAY TOO big to eat. I was in shock. I couldn't believe it. Then suddenly-Reporting news The Big Juicy Apple is nothing but a core. It has been eaten. There is a criminal on the loose and the police need to catch the suspect. The suspect was last seen wearing a red beanie, duck socks and black top and jeans. Make sure to call triple zero if you see him.

Wait, I think I should investigate and try to find the criminal, so I go to my room and get my detective glasses and coat then I go out. Opps I forgot to ask my mum first but it's fine she won't notice... Or at least hopefully. I walk around the main locations of the town then I see...

WAIT I think I found him I quickly took a picture and called the police. police car noises They took the man and 2 weeks later replaced the apple core with a brand new Big Banana.

The End