

The Moorabool Legend

Almost one-thousand years ago there was a Moorabool legend that the famous Werribee River was haunted by... Rainbow eels. Yes, it might sound cute but they are evil, slimy, ugly and aggressive. Despite all this I will be the one who uncovers this Moorabool legend.

I was nervous and unsympathetic but I was ready. I packed my magic survival kit with every magical thing you would need to survive such as magic water cleaner, magic dust, flying powder etc. I had all off these things but I needed one more. A real person who is adventurous, open minded, ready to give everything a go.

"No way"! Daniela exclaimed. Maybe I overexaggerated but Daniela is easy to convince when I want her help with a mystery.

With what took a bit more convincing than I thought we finally got to the Werribee River. It was so pretty, giant oak trees stand tall, little fairy gardens run alongside the river. Many different of species of insects and animals run/fly free. I'd never seen anything like it while still gawking at the real magic.

"Close your mouth before you swallow a fly"! joked Daniela.

"It's just so beautiful" I still gazed in disbelief. How could anything like this be possible?

We walk along the path to get to the river then Daniela suddenly came to a stop.

"Watch it!" I say annoyed.

"Uhm...I found the river" Daniela said pointing at something. I look at what she was pointing at, that's when I saw the most disgusting, muddy, dirty swamp looking river I had ever seen. Just as I was thinking it would be impossible to spot the legendary eels.

"Look"! screamed Daniela a rainbow dash sprinted across the lake.

"I think it's the eels" I said

"But how can we be sure the water is way too dirty"? Daniela questioned.

I had no idea nor did Daniela. Then my face lit up

"My magic survival kit" I screamed excitedly.

"What about it"?

"I can use my magic water cleaner to clean the water".

"We could try I guess". Daniela agreed

I pulled the magic water cleaner from my bag (the magic water cleaner is like a big fertilizer-can but it has tablets in it to make the water clean.) I put the grey misty funnel into the water and within seconds the water changes to a different colour. Not clear. Not blue. Not green, pink, yellow o purple. It turns...

RAINBOW

Many different eels swimming across the river, there was to much rainbow my eyes started to hurt. I couldn't believe my eyes. It was a terrific experience.

The legend was right Werribee River was haunted, well maybe the legend was a little wrong so of course I changed it...or did I?
